Why Go Natural?

The #1 killer among our four-legged friends is cancer. Foods with chemical preservatives will increase their chances of getting cancer.

By-products (which are things other than meat, such as heads, feet, intestines & underdeveloped eggs) can contain chemical preservatives, & by law, if a manufacturer buys the by-product ingredient, they don't have to list the harmful chemicals.

Kidney Failure is the #2 killer among cats & dogs. Foods with by-products are low in digestible proteins, which means kidneys have to work harder to get rid of them, shortening the dog's & cat's life by 30%.

The meat ingredient should say chicken meal, lamb meal, etc. This is dried meat containing no water. You don't want just the word chicken, because that's 78% water by weight. And who wants to pay for water?

Foods by some big companies get their ingredients from China and make the food in America. China does not have the same regulations as the United States. For good quality control, make sure to get a food that is made in the USA containing no products from China.

Isn't Your Pet Worth It?
